~~(PDF) Corporate Communication and the Corporate Brand~~

To define corporate reputation, we can say that it is basically the overall estimation of the company or any organization that is held by the stakeholders of the internal and the external market. In simpler words, corporate reputation is the impression that significant people have about your business. The company's past actions and future predictions are the factors that govern the corporate reputation.

~~What is Corporate Reputation? Importance and Advantages~~

Brand communication influences the stakeholders of the company. The stakeholders include employees, customers, investors, and sponsors as they are attached to the brand in the most integrated manner and it is the prime duty of the management to have a communication with them on regular basis about the happenings and important matters of the brand.

~~What is Brand Communication? Advantages of Brand Communication~~

The meaning of corporate communication is to build a brand and company reputation to share with clients, customers and employees. The corporate communications team will help shape the public and private identity of a company, and share its successes, goals and wisdom, with long-term benefits.

~~What Is the Meaning of Corporate Communication? | Bizfluent~~

Reputations are built on a foundation not only of communications but also of deeds: stakeholders can see through PR that isn't supported by real and consistent business activity. Consumers, our research indicates, feel that companies rely too much on lobbying and PR unsupported by action.

~~Rebuilding corporate reputations | McKinsey~~

Components of a corporate reputation. The two main sources of a corporate reputation are experience and information — a person's past dealings with the organization (and potential future dealings) as well as the extent and nature of their direct and indirect communication with it.

~~Why a good corporate reputation is vital to your ...~~

Neglect of reputation by means of apathy, indifference or ineffective communication is leaving a key communication to the vagaries of other market forces. Murray and White also point to relationship management as being "at the heart of creating, enhancing and retaining a good reputation" (2004, p. 10).
